Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps. (c)

He was unable to state whether the Cubans being trained in Costa Rica were members of subject organization and could furnish no identifying data on the Cubans in charge of these men. (c)

The following information was furnished to SA WADE E. KNAPP:

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticommunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under training. (c)

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. (c)

Both Lt. Col. FIGULS and Captain ARAYA stated that the information furnished by them was confidential and requested that it not be disseminated to any other United States Government agency. (c)

RUSSELL OLSON, Political Officer, United States Embassy, San Jose, Costa Rica, advised on March 2, 1964, that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training in Costa Rica. OLSON stated that they are using land owned by TEODORO QUIROS, Vice President of the Legislative Assembly of Costa Rica.

OLSON advised that when QUIROS requested an import license for two LCM vessels, the request was sent to the United States Department of State, at which time it was pointed out that apparently the vessels would be used by Cubans opposed to the present regime in Cuba. Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. He said he understands they are being trained for infiltration into Cuba and not for invasion purposes. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps.

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticommunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under training. (C)

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. He said he understands they are being trained for infiltration into Cuba and not for invasion purposes. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps.

He was unable to state whether the Cubans being trained in Costa Rica were members of subject organization and could furnish no identifying data on the Cubans in charge of these men.

The following information was furnished to SA WADE E. KNAPP:

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticomunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under training. (C)

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. (C)

Both Lt. Col. FIGULS and Captain ARAYA stated that the information furnished by them was confidential and requested that it not be disseminated to any other United States Government agency. (C)

RUSSELL OLSON, Political Officer, United States
Embassy, San Jose, Costa Rica, advised on March 2, 1964, that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training in Costa Rica. OLSON stated that they are using land owned by TEODORO QUIROS, Vice President of the Legislative Assembly of Costa Rica.

OLSON advised that when QUIROS requested an import license for two LCM vessels, the request was sent to the United States Department of State, at which time it was pointed out that apparently the vessels would be used by Cubans opposed to the present regime in Cuba. The Department of State approved the export of the two LCM vessels, which were delivered to QUIROS, according to OLSON.

Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. He said he understands they are being trained for infiltration into Cuba and not for invasion purposes. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps.

The following information was furnished to SA WADE E. KNAPP:

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticommunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under training. (C)

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. (C)

Both Lt. Col. FIGULS and Captain ARAYA stated that the information furnished by them was confidential and requested that it not be disseminated to any other United States Government agency. (C)

RUSSELL OLSON, Political Officer, United States Embassy, San Jose, Costa Rica, advised on March 2, 1964, that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training in Costa Rica. OLSON stated that they are using land owned by TEODORO QUIROS, Vice President of the Legislative Assembly of Costa Rica.

OLSON advised that when QUIROS requested an import license for two LCM vessels, the request was sent to the United States Department of State, at which time it was pointed out that apparently the vessels would be used by Cubans opposed to the present regime in Cuba. The Department of State approved the export of the two LCM vessels, which were delivered to QUIROS, according to OLSON.

Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. He said he understands they are being trained for infiltration into Cuba and not for invasion purposes. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps.

He was unable to state whether the Cubans being trained in Costa Rica were members of subject organization and could furnish no identifying data on the Cubans in charge of these men.

The following information was furnished to SA WADE E. KNAPP:

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticommunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under (C) training.

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. (C)

Both Lt. Col. FIGULS and Captain ARAYA stated that the information furnished by them was confidential and requested that it not be disseminated to any other United States Government agency. (C)

On March 3, 1964, RICHARD RASTETTER, Head of (S) the CIA Station, United States Embassy, San Jose, advised (S) (A) (C)

He was unable to state which of these individuals, if any, was then in Costa Rica. (S)(u)(s)

(S) [RASTETTER] stated that it is his understanding that representatives of JURE, which is headed by MANOLO RAY, have close contact with JOSE FIGUERES, an ex-President of Costa Rica, and DANIEL ODUBER, present Foreign Minister of Costa Rica. On the other hand, he believes that members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, headed by MANUEL ARTIME, have close contact with President FRANCISCO ORLICH of Costa Rica. He advised that both groups are allegedly training in Costa Rica. He requested that no dissemination be made of this information. (S)(u)(s)

On March 6, 1964, [JOHN B. BRADY] Head of the CIA (S) Station, United States Embassy, Tegucigalpa, Honduras, advised SA WADE E. On March 2, 1964, Captain CARLOS LUIS CHAVES, Assistant Director General, Criminal Investigations, San Jose, Costa Rica, advised that RAIMUNDO QUIDIELLO was known to him as the head of the JUNTA REVOLUCIONARIA CUBANA (Cuban Revolutionary Junta - JURE) in Costa Rica. CHAVES said that QUIDIELLO is a wealthy individual who is engaged in the molasses business, the purchase and sale of automobiles, and also has trailers which he uses in a hauling concern. CHAVES was unable to state whether JURE is active in Costa Rica and could furnish no information concerning the activities of this organization. (2)

RUSSELL OLSON, Political Officer, United States Embassy, San Jose, Costa Rica, advised on March 2, 1964, that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training in Costa Rica. OLSON stated that they are using land owned by TEODORO QUIROS, Vice President of the Legislative Assembly of Costa Rica.

OLSON advised that when QUIROS requested an import license for two LCM vessels, the request was sent to the United States Department of State, at which time it was pointed out that apparently the vessels would be used by Cubans opposed to the present regime in Cuba. The Department of State approved the export of the two LCM vessels, which were delivered to QUIROS, according to OLSON.

Colonel HARVEY stated that according to his information there are approximately three hundred men in all in training. He said he understands they are being trained for infiltration into Cuba and not for invasion purposes. It was his belief that Puerto Viego was used by the trainees as their headquarters but said there seemed to be considerable movement between the two camps.

He was unable to state whether the Cubans being trained in Costa Rica were members of subject organization and could furnish no identifying data on the Cubans in charge of these men.

The following information was furnished to
SA WADE E. KNAPP:

On March 3, 1964, Lt. Col. FERNANDO FIGULS QUIROS, Head of the Security Agency in San Jose and Advisor to the President, advised that the correct name of LUDWIG STACKY is VEKO STACKY. He described him as a very rich individual who is friendly with the President of Costa Rica and is head of the anticommunist movement. He said that anti-CASTRO Cubans are training on his land and also on the land of TEODORO QUIROS. He said this training is not for purposes of invasion but to prepare the men for infiltration and sabotage. He estimated there were one hundred men under training. (C)

On March 3, 1964, Captain GONZALO ARAYA, Second in Charge, Security Agency, San Jose, stated the anti-CASTRO Cubans in Costa Rica receiving training in infiltration and sabotage were members of the Movimiento Recuperacion Revolucionario, which, he said, in his opinion, was an anti-CASTRO movement headed by MANUEL ARTIME and MANOLO RAY. (C)

Both Lt. Col. FIGULS and Captain ARAYA stated that the information furnished by them was confidential and requested that it not be disseminated to any other United States Government agency. (C)
